Short Bio
Prof. H. Eray Copcu, MD, is a distinguished Professor of Plastic, Reconstructive and Aesthetic Surgery. A pioneering academic, he established Turkey's first Regenerative Medicine Department. Since 2011, his clinical focus on stem cell therapies and exosome technologies has led to the development and patenting of innovative surgical techniques, including MEST (Mechanical Stromal-cell Transfer), ARAT, and COPCUs mammoplasty. His contributions have earned global acclaim, notably the 2024 Sydney Coleman Best Scientific Study Award (3rd place) and the 2025 Outstanding Presentation Award from the Korean Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons. A globally recognized educator, Dr. Copcu has been a visiting professor at universities in Pittsburgh, Edinburgh, and Tokyo. He serves as the Turkish Senator for ISPRES, Editor-in-Chief of the Internet Journal of Plastic Surgery, and Section Editor for Scars, Burns & Healing, with over 60 articles published in prominent international journals.
